This car was designed and engineered from the start to be driven by a professional driver, and for its occupants to be able to enjoy its spacious rear seats. Its bodywork is noteworthy for its large front and rear bumpers and the large exhaust pipes imitating rocket thrusters.

The Cadillac Fleetwood limousine features a separation panel between driver and passengers, and has a row of folding seats that allow 7 passengers to be accommodated in comfort. It is equipped with air conditioning, automatic transmission, power steering, an engine of 250 hp, etc. Only 1,075 units of the limousine model were manufactured.

Mr. Juan March used to ride in this model of nearly 6 meters long. A plaque on the engine certifies that the wealthy banker was its owner. An vehicle exactly like it was used by Elvis Presley and his band.

This model was an official car in many countries, owing to its large size, elegance, comfort, and its long history.
